Norfolk, VA (PRWeb) July 19th, 2008 -- Affinity4 announces the launch of their new ACLJ (American Center for Law and Justice) Wireless Phone Service, allowing ACLJ members to continue assisting the ACLJ in the efforts to preserve traditional values and protect our religious and constitutional freedoms ... all by simply making a phone call.

This new wireless service allows ACLJ members to take a stand with the ACLJ and use their purchasing power to send a strong message to the major phone companies who don't support traditional values. With this service, an ACLJ member can receive important ACLJ updates right from their phone either by text messaging or by accessing www.ACLJ.Mobi.

With ACLJ Wireless Service through Affinity4, customers will enjoy competitive rate plans, as well as have the opportunity to either choose from a great phone selection or keep their current Verizon phone. ACLJ Wireless Customers will also receive a $100 credit to use toward ending a current contract or the purchase of a new phone. Every new phone purchase includes an ACLJ-branded phone, complete with logo and wallpaper. Not only do customers get a great phone, nationwide service and low international rates, but they also have the opportunity to support the ACLJ through Affinity4's 10% GiveBack Program. To help aid in the fight for freedom, Affinity4 will donate an extra $10 to the ACLJ for every new customer who signs up for ACLJ Wireless.
